Inviting junior high school students and those interested in taking an open online course (MOOC) to prepare for the O-NET Mathematics exam

Mathematics Education program (SSRUIC) with the National Educational Testing Institute (Public Organization) produces an online open course (MOOC) for students in junior high school levels to test their understanding of mathematics and review contents to prepare for the upcoming O-NET exam. The course consists of pre- and post-tests, review exercises, video lessons, and samples of the O-NET exam for the academic year 2017-2018 with answers.
